

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 10. 1743.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Constantinople, Dec. 22.

WE have been, within these few Days, on the Point of seeing a new Rebellion here. The Occasion of it was this. A Levantine, or Seaman, quarrell'd with a Drawer belonging to a Publick House in the Suburbs of Galata, and coming from Words to Blows, the Fellow gave the Seaman an unlucky with a Stick, which kill'd him; upon which the Seaman kept the House, and eight of his Servants, immediately sent to Prison. The Seamen no sooner heard of the Death of their Companion, than Hundreds of them ran to the House of the Governor of Galata, and to the principal Judge, threatening strange things, if all the Prisoners were not immediately deliver'd to them, to be treated as they thought proper. The Grand Vizier being inform'd of this Accident, immediately sent into Galata with his Guards, whom he was conveniently as possible, in order to prevent the bad Effects of a Tumult. Considering how impetuous Temper of the Seamen, and desirous to keep the House, he order'd the eight Seamen to be put to Death, strangling some, and cutting the Heads of others; after which, their Bodies were thrown in the Street. The Seamen assembled the next Day in great Numbers, insulted the dead Carcasses, and then retired pretty well satisfied. But the Grand Vizier, to prevent such Disturbances for the future, publish'd an Order, by which only a certain Number of Seamen, necessary to take care of the Ships, were to remain in the Port, and the rest were to repair to their respective Habitations, under Penalties. This Order occasion'd fresh Tumults, and was quickly discover'd that some seditious Corps had engaged the Seamen to commit these Disorders, promising to join them, and raise a general Rebellion, which was prevented by the Vizier's ordering several of the Mariners to be put to Death, and taking the necessary Precautions for extirpating, by degrees, the Seeds of the Malecontents amongst the Troops. This Day the Minister gave the Grand Signior such Advice, that he did him the Honour to dine with him, upon which Occasion, all the Foreign Ministers and Ambassadors contribute to the Defect. The Marquis de Castellar, the French Ambassador, eagerly laid out this Occasion to testify his extraordinary Zeal, and therefore sent the Grand Vizier all the Sweetmeats, and such like, that were in his House.

Constantinople, Jan. 22. We have certain Intelligence from Kouli Kan has declared War against Russia, and the Turkish Minister has been for some Months at Constantinople, where he seems to be treated with equal Consideration and Respect. We are likewise inform'd, that the Russians have laid an Embargo on some English Ships that were in the Ports of the Caspian Sea, in order to make use of them to transport both Troops and Ammunition to Derbent. But upon the Shah's request, the Intelligence that 50 or 60,000 Regular Troops were sent towards Astracan, he has thought fit to propose a Truce; pretending that he has nothing farther to do, than to secure the Freedom of Navigation to the Subjects in those Parts. As the entering into a Truce will afford us Time to provide effectually for our Affairs on this Side, it has been resolv'd to appoint Plenipotentiaries to confer with his Ministers. The Prince of Brunswick only is to return into Germany, and the Princess his Spouse to continue with her Sister at Riga.

Constantinople, Jan. 29. M. Bircintin, the Danish Minister, presented, on the 23^d of this Month, a Memorial to the Diet, setting forth the many reciprocal Advantages resulting to both Kingdoms from a settled and lasting Peace, and desiring that proper Measures might be taken for rendering the present good Correspondence between these Crowns perpetual, notwithstanding unforeseen future Events. This Memorial was read on the 25th to the Secret Committee. The Danish Minister here has received fresh Remittances from Copenhagen, which has exceedingly rais'd the Spirits of the Danes; and it is now evident, that the Duke de Deux Monts has more Friends than ever, tho' probably too few for his Point.

Copenhagen, Feb. 3. M. Titley, the British Minister, is negotiating a Treaty with our Court, but whether it be as the French Ambassador gives out, a mere Treaty of Subsidy, or an Alliance of greater Importance, is still a Secret. Whatever it be, the Abbe de la Maie appears excessively uneasy about it, and it is thought that he will present a Memorial in a few Days, in order to remind the Court of its Engagements to his Master.

Madrid, Jan. 12. The Count de Glines arriv'd here on the 18th, and the same Evening appear'd at Court, where he was graciously receiv'd by their Majesties; the Duke de Montemar, and his Son-in-Law the Marquis of Castellar, are expected towards the latter End of the Month; but it is doubted whether they will meet with so good Reception.

Lisbon, Jan. 20. The Fleet from Maranhao, consisting of five Vessels, are lately arriv'd. Their Cargo consists of 55,612 Arrobes of Cacao, 4100 Arrobes of Sugar, together with large Quantities of Sarsaparilla, Tobacco, and other Goods. There are at present seven English Men of War in this Port, but it is expected that they will sail To-morrow, together with 50 Merchant-Men, which are ready to depart under their Convoy.

Bologna, Jan. 29. The Count de Gages had form'd a secret Design on the City of Modena, and had actually begun the necessary Dispositions for putting it in Execution, when he received Advice that the whole was discover'd, and that Count Traun had caus'd the principal Persons concern'd in it to be Arrested.

Geneva, Feb. 6. The near Approach of the Spanish Troops gives us every Day more and more Uneasiness; but the Resolution taken by the neighbouring Cantons to form an Army of Observation, gives us some Hopes, especially since we are certain, that any Attempt upon this City would draw down such a Body of regular Troops to our Assistance, as might endanger these bad Neighbours remaining long in their Quarters at Savoy.

Vienna, Jan. 30. It has not been thought necessary to assemble the States of Hungary this Year, in order to obtain as numerous an Army as the Queen may have Occasion for; since it is found, that her Majesty's Letters to the Nobility will be sufficient to produce that Effect. We are daily sending Troops into Italy, and expect very soon a Body of 5000 Croats that are to serve in that Country. Mr. Villers, the British Minister at Dresden, who lately arriv'd here, in order to concert the proper Methods for opening the approaching Campaign, is shortly to set out for the Armies in Bavaria and the Upper Palatinate, and then to make the Tour of the German Courts, where all her Majesty's Ministers have Orders to act in strict Concert with him.

The Royal BEAUTIFYING FLUID

SO exceedingly valued by Ladies

Quality and all who have used it, for its transcendent efficacy in Beautifying the Face, Neck, and Hands, most exquisite Perfection possible, is to be had only Radford's Toyshop at the Rose and Crown against St. Church-yard in the Strand.

It gives an inexpressible fine Air to the Features of the Spot, and a surprising Handsomeness to the Hands, which it immediately makes exceedingly smooth and delicately white.

Nothing in the World can sooner or more certainly away all disagreeable Redness, Spots, Pimples, Heaviness, Morpew, Worms in the Face, Marks of the Sun-burn, or any other Discolouring, nor remove all so perfectly, for it quickly makes the Skin become so parably fine, clear, plump, soft, and beautifully fair, cause Admiration in the Beholders.

It really gives a most engaging resplendent Brightness whole Countenance, and causes sparkling Life, Spirit, and Bloom to reign in every Feature, and yet is not Paint, but far exceeds it, by its bringing the Skin, of the Face, Neck, or Hands, and the brown, red, or to a natural, youthful Fairness, Smoothness, and moisting Delicacy, which Paint only faintly imitates; ne this ROYAL BEAUTIFIER prepared from the least ele of Mercury, or any Thing Metaline, but is perfectly less and may be given inwardly even to Children. It is a pleasant Scent, will not soil the finest Lawn, and agreeable to use.

But these its admirable Properties, by which it exceeds any Thing whatever for the like Purpose, have occ many to imitate it, under various other Names, beware fore of such Impositions, the true ROYAL BEAUTIFIER FLUID, that has given such universal Satisfaction to Ladies of Distinction, being only to be had at Mr. Radford's Toyshop above-mentioned at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle with Directions and no where else in England.

The Great Carminative.

A most famous Tincture for the Wind Cholick,

IN what Part soever lodged; for at taking, and in five Minute's Time, it perfectly cures severest Gripings in the Guts, and immediately expels Wind from the Stomach or Bowels (as it were) to a Measure.

For all wandering Pains in any Part soever, which some Persons the Forerunners of a fixed Rheumatism, in the Gout (mistaken many times under the Notion of tick Ailments) this famous Medicine has not its Fellowing wrought Wonders in these Cases on great Numbers of People, who, before taking it, could neither sit, stand, at Ease; but were in intolerable Pain Night and Day, taking less than half a Bottle, were absolutely freed from present Pain, and, by a short Continuance of the recovered to perfect Health again.

As for any Belchings or Hiccups, proceeding from or, in short, in any Case of Wind, it may be depended the best, safest, most expeditious, and most sovereign ever yet known.

The Princely beautifying LOTION

Whole INIMITABLE VIRTUES and TRANSCENDENT EXCELLENCIES have gained it so much Reputation, that envious Imitators endeavour, tho' in vain, to counterfeit it.

It beautifies the Face, Neck, and Hands to the utmost section, and is in the greatest Esteem amongst Ladies, the first Quality. No Words can sufficiently express its virtues; for it is not of the Nature of Paint, which puts on and unnatural Gloss on the Skin; but is a Remedy to its Use, really gives a Lustre to the most Beautiful, by the fine Features of the Face, and is so safe, not the least Grain of Mercury in it, that it may be taken inwardly, and it smelled to, is really good against Vapours.

It infallibly kills Worms in the Face, takes away Freckles, Spots, Wrinkles, Pits, or Marks of the Small-Pox, and cures any Defects in the Face, giving a charming Lustre and fine Air to the Features, to Admiration.

As for such Persons as are of a swarthy Complexion, or bled with any disagreeable Redness, Roughness, Morpew, or the like, it is not to be paralleled; for it immediately smooths, clears, plumps, nourishes, and whitens the skin to the last Degree, and makes those Persons who before were haggard and old, to look young, beautiful, and fair; in short, it far exceeds any thing that was ever yet known made publick, for clearing and beautifying the Skin.

It will keep good twice Seven Years, well cork'd, in Part of the World.

Good Allowance is given by the Dozen to sell again.
